Can you believe I finally caught the wave? I could have fallen and washed out, but instead, I'm riding high! One day I was cruisin' on the crest of life, Actually passing Math, and then on the next, I was escorted to the dean's office for cutting. At the beginning of the term, I got a class with a bug out teacher, and all of my friends, but then I was cramming to write a final paper for that same class, at two o'clock in the morning of course! I was definitely caught in the trough with ZERO PERIOD GYM, but it sure was great to get out of school at the end of sixth. Yet, I reached the shoreline, most of us did. We made it - maybe scarred, scratched, or bruised - but there. So let this yearbook be dedicated to the class of '87... to those who managed to keep their balance.

Let's Go Mets!

A cry heard everywhere in New York ... three words echoed by millions of fans ... and a buzz that reechoed through the halls of Bowne.

A chant that has followed this team from the Polo Grounds in '62 to Shea Stadium in '87.

An almost magical incantation that pulled the Mets out of the Jaws of Death in October.

We're Metsmerized!!

Let's Go Mets: 16 innings in Game 6 of the pennant with the spectre of Mike Scott looming in Game 7.

Let's Go Mets: Two Games down, walking into Fenway Park.

Let's Go Mets: A seemingly simple ground ball skipping through Bill Buckner's legs.

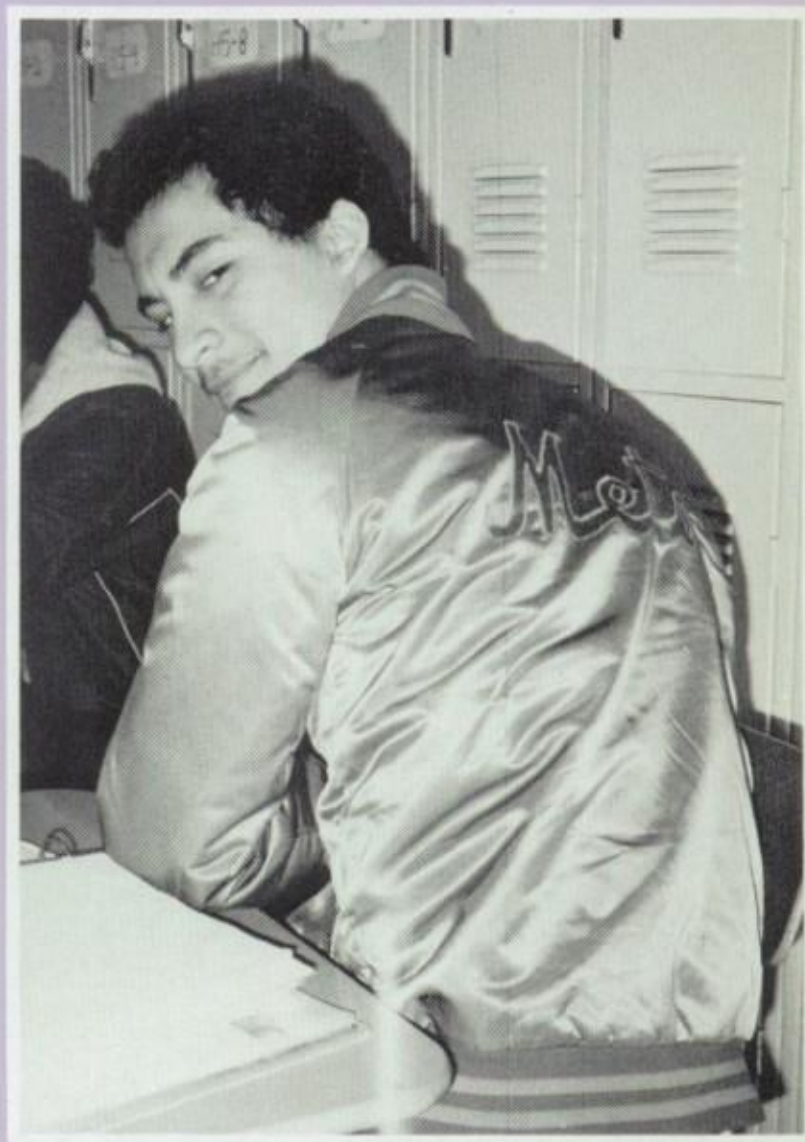

Let's Go Mets: Strawberry and Knight homering in another incredible come from behind victory.

Let's Go Mets: Jesse Orosco throwing his glove to victory, kneeling on the mound, hands, raised in glorious exultation.

Let's Go Mets: A ticker tape parade banner last October reading "1986: A Dynasty Begins".

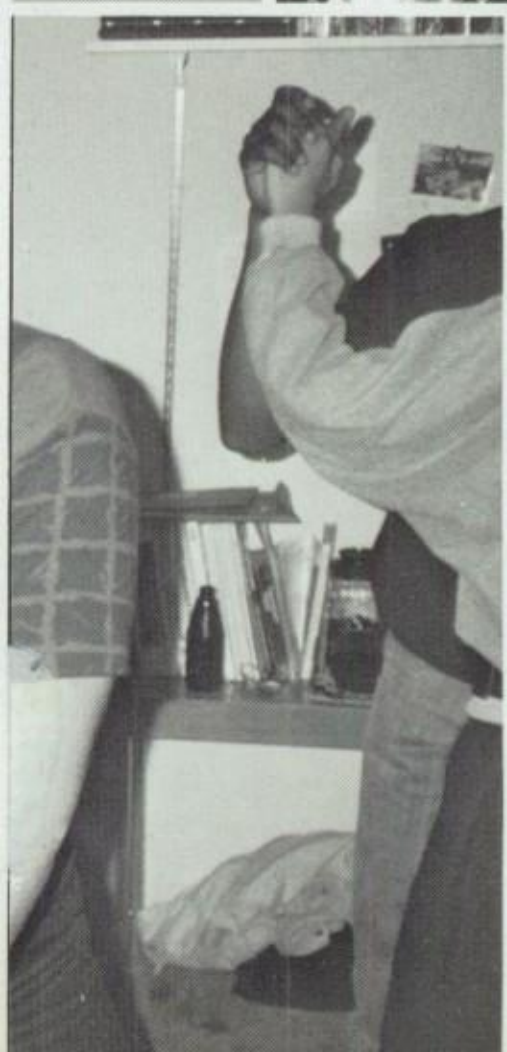

Let's Go Mets: 1987, another season of baseball like it oughta be.

FACULTY

THE PRINCIPAL

Patricia Kobetts

The class of June 1987 is special for me. All of you entered John Bowne High School as ninth or tenth graders in September 1983 or 1984 - when I was first assigned and then officially appointed as Principal. Together we have shared many experiences, many special events, many ideas, many projects, many joys and sadly, some sorrows (in the loss of friends and members of the John Bowne family so dear to all of us).

As you think of your high school time years from now and reminisce, fond memories will come to mind - the senior weekend, the Prom, school dances, the International Fair, Trips, FFA conventions, clubs, sports awards dinners, faculty/student games, music festivals and art shows and much, much more. You will also recognize the importance and value of your high school experience at Bowne and the extent your life has been shaped by the knowledge imparted and the friendships formed here.

"Waves," the the theme you have chosen for your year-book, is appropriate because a high school diploma allows you to progress forward, to continue your studies and to enter the world of work. It also holds special meaning to the many bowne graduates who were not born in the United States.

My dream for you is that you realize your career goals, achieve to your fullest capacity and help to find solutions to the many problems that beset mankind. When I think of the future, a warm feeling of confidence comes over me because I know that you will be there.

May God bless you in all your endeavors.

We are the French Club, a unique group of cultured students, who are the real French-Americans of Queens. A love for the Mystery, Intrigue, and Romance of France, its language and its culture is what we're all about.

Our family of students expands our knowledge of France by taking trips to see wonderful French films, plays and art. We are ravished by the delicacy of French cuisine.

The French Club contributes its knowledge and appreciation to John Bowne and Queens through special cake sales, dances and our infamous Croissant Breakfast.

Japanese Exchange

Ms. Wendy Weiner, Advisor, Kenneth Freimann, Jane Hillenbrand, Alicia Kemp and Japanese exchange students.

For two weeks in October, twenty-four Japanese exchange students stayed in New York with twenty-four American hosts. Jane Hillenbrand, Alicia Kemp and Kenneth Freimann of John Bowne were among those chosen and honored to be hosts for the Japanese visitors. During their two weeks together, all of the students managed to visit Washington D.C. and Pennsylvania, view a large part of New York City, meet with Mayor Koch and participate in a number of receptions.

Jane, Alicia and Kenneth will travel to Japan and Korea for two weeks and will, in turn, be hosted by students in those countries. In order to participate in this part of the exchange, they must pass all of their courses, attend eight orientation meetings at the Asia Society and make a satisfactory presentation on a subject involving Japan. Ms. Wendy Weiner is advisor-mentor for the group and Mrs. Patricia Kobetts, our principal, will accompany the students to Japan as one of the chaperones.

This fearless group of men and women dispenses the supplies that our science teachers cannot do without. On top of this, they tend to the needs of animals that are raised in the lab. They deal with these duties because they know that they have found the only decent place to stay during a free period. Of course, without them KAOS would be king. Ms. Rand (Mom) has trained the group to perfection in performing their services.

Bownes Jaguar

Members of the Advanced Auto Shop: Richie Reyes, Ivan Juarez, Anthony Imranali, Jerry Skaliotis, Charles Ross, Steven E. Williams, Erick Alvarado, Victor Rodriguez, Jose Marmalejos. Mr. Tsapelas is the instructor.

To the background noises of hammers, drills and solders add these comments: "I hope it holds together." "It's been a lot of work, but it will work - I hope!"

These are the tongue-in-cheek expressions of the Advanced Auto Shop seniors as they construct a 1937 Jaguar SS-100 antique car. With the help of Queens High School Superintendent Samuel Kostman they were able to purchase the antique car kit and literally start from the ground up. The project was conceived by Mr. Raymond Shae-vitz, A.P. Administration; supervised by Mr. Philip Shutzman, A.P. Technology; and carried out under the enthusiastic support of our principal, Mrs. Patricia Kobetts.

The mechanics are confident that the car will be sold at auction to the highest bidder because offers have already been made. Victor Rodriguez states, "By working on the Jaguar I get the chance to put my auto mechanic experience to work. It is a dream and it is team work that makes this go."

Academic Olympics

Some of John Bowne's ablest students can be found on the Academic Olympics team. Coached by Mr. Michael Donlon, the team participates in an intellectual competition run by the Board of Education. We are one of the fifteen high school teams that compete in our area. The goal is to reach the playoffs and try to work our way up to taking the medal for first prize. It is a contest of knowledge in the fields of English, social studies, science, math and the humanities.

The team members are bright and hard-working. Once they pass try-outs, it's all a matter of going to practice. They must show team spirit and they can't be shy because they present themselves to an audience. Equanimity under pressure is a necessity.

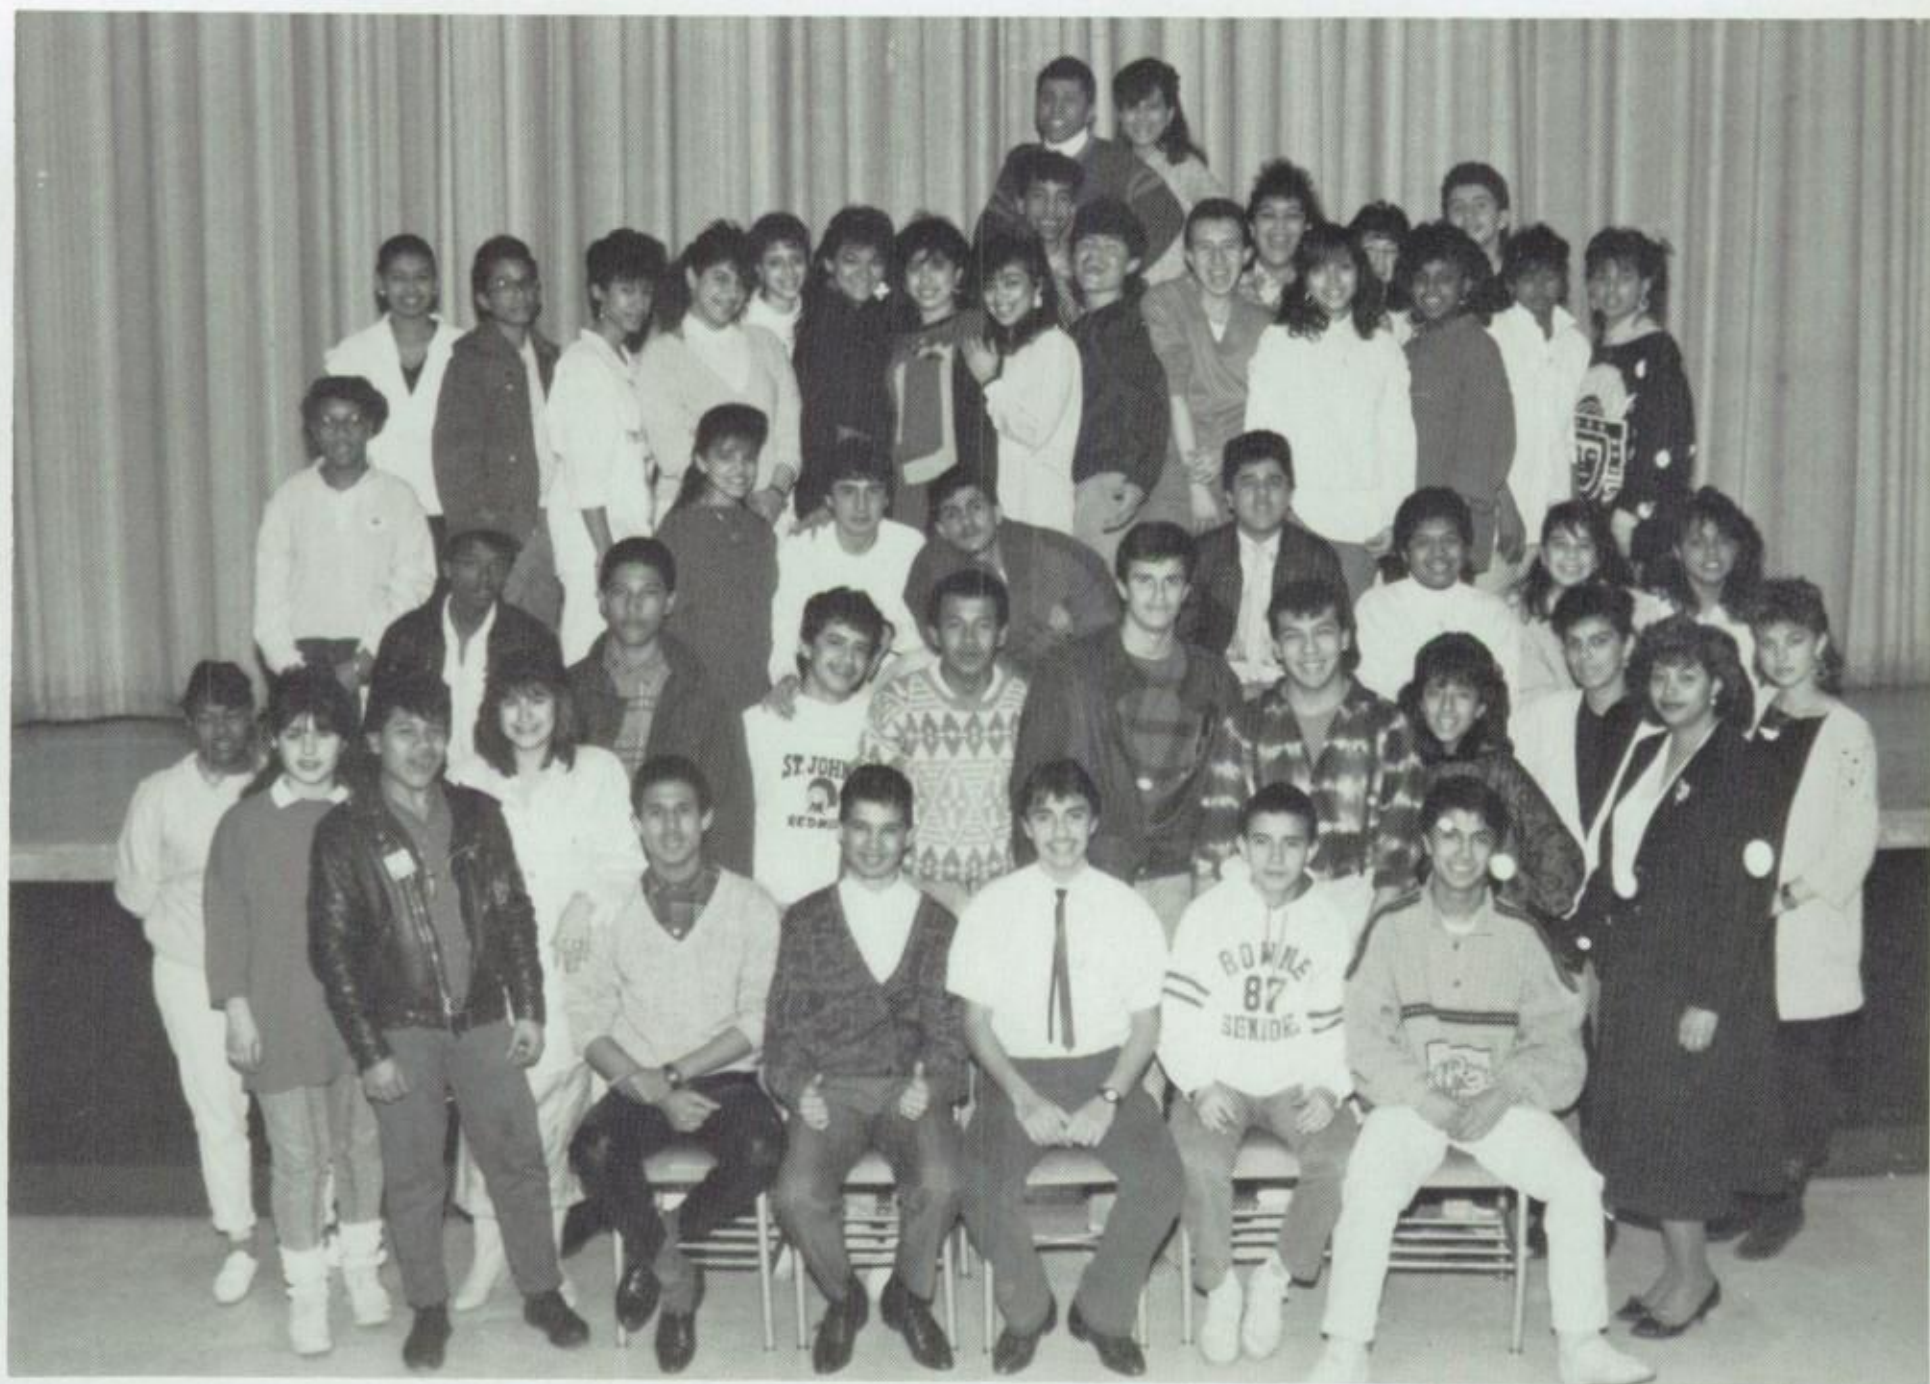

The Academic Olympics is really a battle of brains. John Bowne has a good, competitive team. Our '87 seniors will pass the winning tradition on to juniors and sophomores who are being groomed for the team.

Exciting and provocative panel discussions improve native language skills. Students who are new to the United States feel comfortable among friends. The club also sponsors a needy African child, has birthday parties and presents hand-made cards, sponsors volleyball games, sells Korean food at the May Fair and conducts bi-annual elections.

The Inde-Pak Club creates a cultural reunion for students from India and Pakistan. Its activities are reminiscent of these from Indian culture. Parties in school allow us to enjoy our ethnic music and food. We also attend films and concerts. Even though there are hostilities between India and Pakistan, the club members are totally amiable and enjoy each other's fellowship. The Inde-Pak Club encourages students from other groups to attend its meetings in order to learn about what may be an "exotic" culture to them.

Mock Trial

Coach Kleinman, Shirley Ho, Yvette Szeleczy, Meena Trakru, Irene Rolando, Coach Snyder, Rajri Narang, Patti Chen, Maria Manalac, Tara Sukhu. Absent: Dina Isakov, Simone Mitchell, Prudence Soobrattie, Yumiko Yamada

The Mock Trial team tells the truth and nothing but the truth. It's a group of students who compete against other schools in a court trial. The issues change from Grand Larceny to Advertisement Fraud. Students act as plaintiffs, defendants, and lawyers, while a real lawyer acts as the presiding judge. The trials take place in an actual courthouse where the defendant is proven guilty or not guilty.

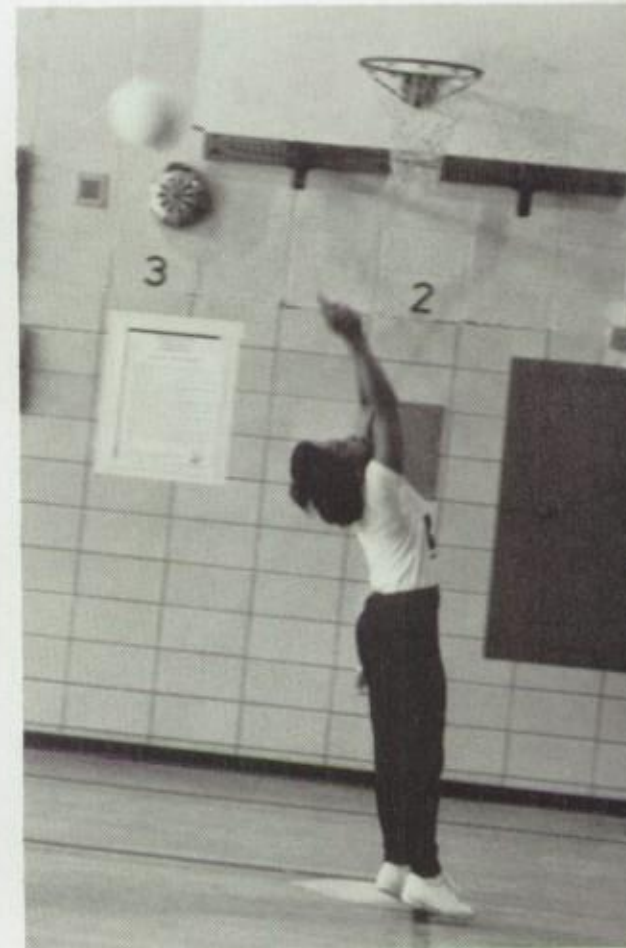

This year, the Mock Trial team was expertly coached by Mr. Kleinmen. We were also helped by a student lawyer, Lynn De Lisa, and members of the social studies department. With all that help, and the fact that we are a very able team, we made it beyond the preliminary rounds. We beat Flushing High in the second round and defeated Cardoza in the third. Finally, out of sixty New York City schools, Bowne ranked in the top sixteen.

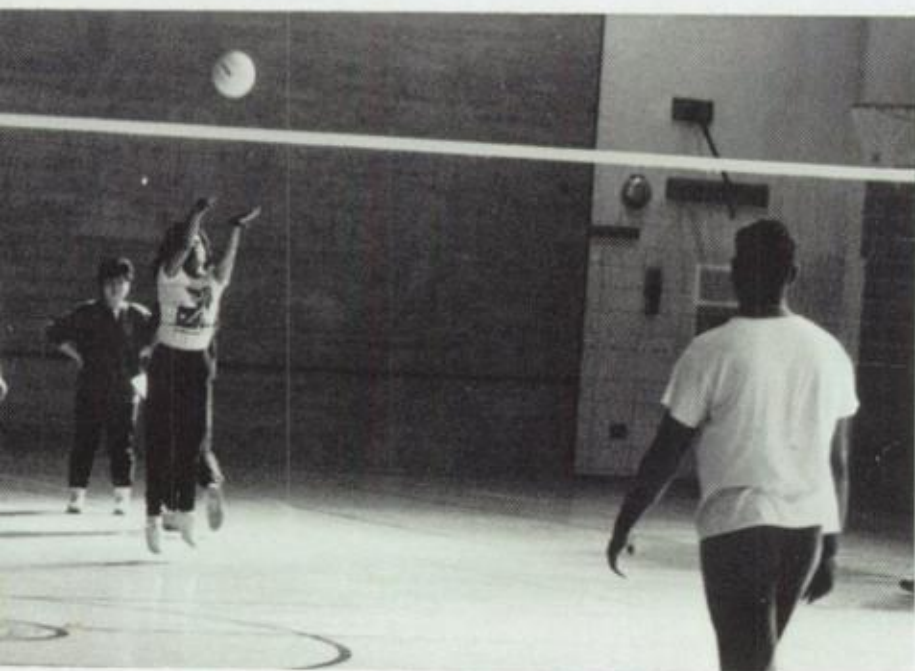

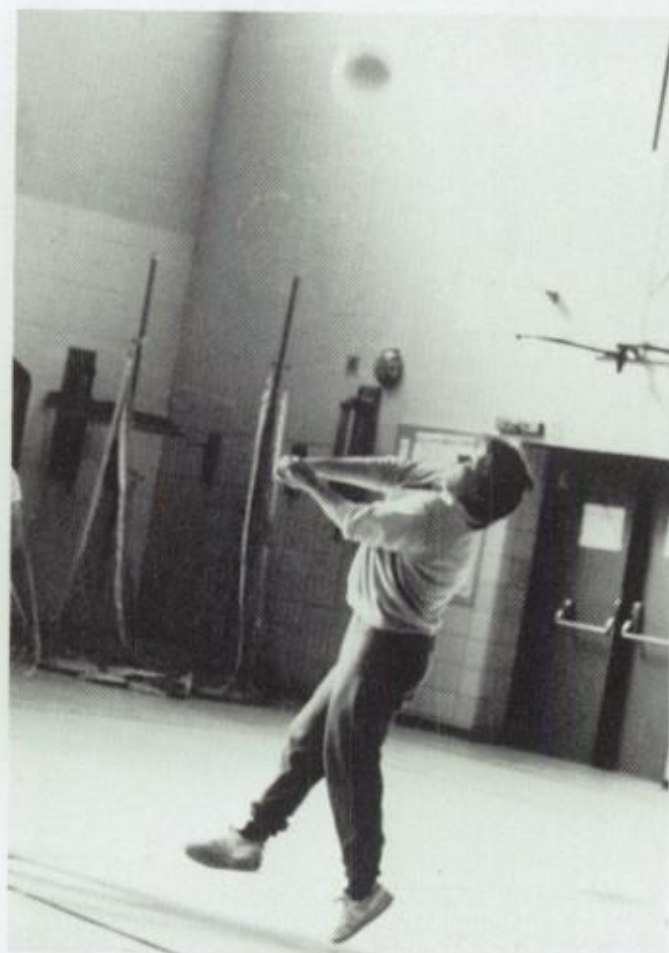

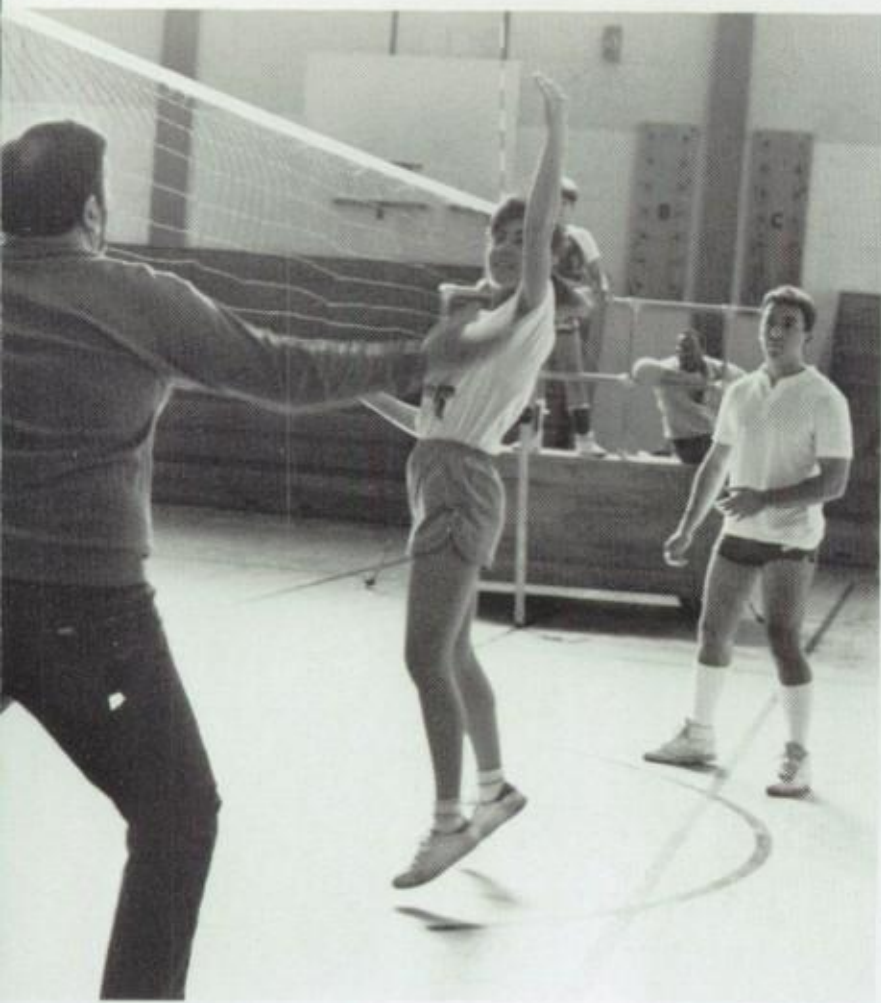

Student-Faculty Volleyball Game

Students Triumph . . . Again

A tradition upheld! The faculty team tried everything from cheerleading to ballet, from wishful thinking to fearless spiking, but to no avail. We were well-organized, practiced and determined to be the latest in a long line of winning student teams. We salute our opponents and thank them for their spirit and sportsmanship. On to '88!

"Learn and Earn"

Cooperative Education is a program in which students alternate their weeks, one at work and the next in school. Coop gives students experience in the working world and provides opportunities for future careers. We get wonderful jobs and we gain a feeling of importance.

In school each coop class is together for seven periods every day. We learn to put aside our differences and communicate with each other. We help each other with difficulties, but sometimes the pressure of being together all day makes us a little disagreeable. However, part of our work experience is learning to cope with irritations and to find creative solutions to problems. We are respected by our teachers, recognized and treated like the mature adults that we are.

Veronica Williams feels that, "Although the load seemed hard to bear, once we got into coop, we began working and made new friends. We found that it was a fun and challenging experience." In the future, the coop experience will provide fond memories. "If I had to do it all over again," says Karen McIntosh, "I definitely would."

There are many clubs at John Bowne, but only our most scholarly students are admitted to Arista. These students gain acceptance to the National Honor Society on the basis of their scholarship, character, service and leadership.

Candidates are selected each term. Juniors must have a 90 average in their third and fourth terms. Seniors must have an 85 average for grades ten and eleven. Once candidates, the students must show their commitment to the school by doing service. They must also use their scholastic abilities to provide tutoring for fellow students in need of extra help. Community service is also required.

Each April, these exceptional students are inducted into the National Honor Society. At the candle-light ceremony, they pledge to uphold the ideals and standards for which they have been recognized.

The club SPICE (students for Progress In Cultural Education) was formed in October of 1985. The organization's purpose is to study and understand the cultural, historical and social ideas and movements not fully discussed as a part of the social studies curriculum.

Band & Chorus in Concert

This year's Winter Concert was the best in recent memory! Rosa Vargas's rendition of "Words Get in the Way" drew enthusiastic cheers from the huge audience. Kenny Santiago charmed his audience with Kenny Rogers's "Lady." Mr. Voroba's selection of songs and musical accompaniment made for unforgettable entertainment. "Billie Jean," played under Mr. Irene's baton, was a show- stopper.

Shakespeare Oratory

On January 21st, an audience of 120 gathered in the library to hear thirteen students recite dramatic passages from Shakespeare as part of the Shakespeare Oratory Contest. They were competing to represent John Bowne at the borough-wide contest and perhaps go on to compete in the city-wide contest that carries as a prize a two-week trip for a student and parent to Stratford and London, England.

Josette Roozen, who played the role of Anne in Richard III, was selected by the judges as the winner, but several of the students earned scores very close to hers. The following students comprised the all-star cast: Dwight Henry as Benedick from Much Ado About Nothing; Isabel Rodriguez, Rizwana Asra, Meena Trakru, Pamela Scheper, and Ranjani Krishanmurthi who all chose to play the role of Viola from Twelfth Night; Shawn Wells, Karming Lai and Tara Sukhu who played the role of Mistress Quickly from The Merry Wives of Windsor; Jill Nadler and Kelly Yang who also did Anne's speech from Richard III and Cherlun Faust who played Ariel from The Tempest.

For the next stage of the contest, Josette will have to deliver her selection from Richard III, and will also have to demonstrate her proficiency in interpreting a sonnet. She will be required to memorize and recite one of five sonnets preselected by The English Speaking Union, and she and the other winners from Queens high schools will be judged by a distinguished panel of theater people.

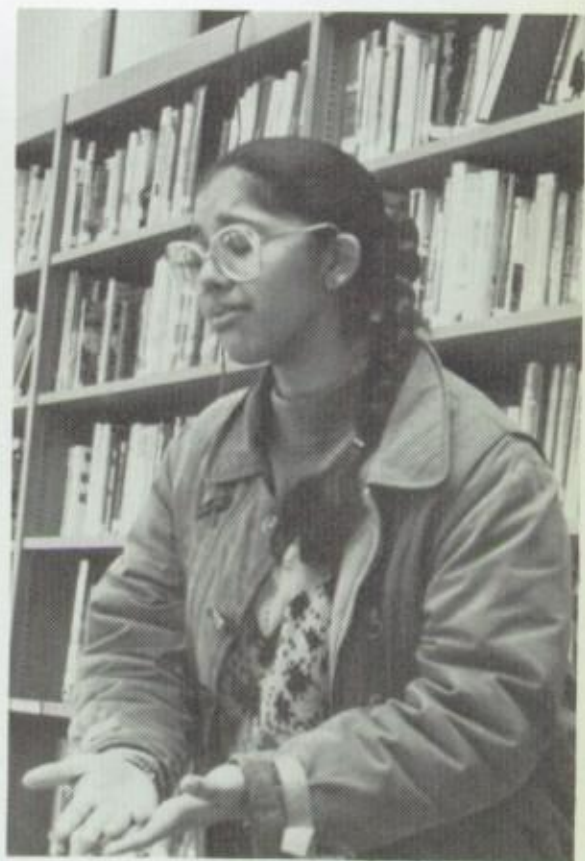

Using her British charm and attitude, Mrs. Klein added a sense of authenticity to the Shakespeare contest.

Reporters Rate Rival's Writing

The Observer, through hard work and creativity, has the responsibility of keeping the students informed and interested in school news and the pressing issues that affect teenagers! This sense of responsibility to the students, faculty, school administration, and the journalism profession, must be upheld in every word in every issue.

Echo of a Foghorn

*Sailboat silhouettes glide
Across the misty horizon.
Flocks of seagulls cry
In anguish
And then suddenly . . .
Disappear in the vast sea of Gray clouds.
The cold sand is hard as I
Walk down miles
Of endless beach.
A shell washes up along the shore
From the depths of the cold ocean
Mysterious and dark
A foghorn echoes,
A seagull cries
And the gentle mist
Turns to rain.*

The Science Club is a gathering of willing minds and spirits and together we decide on our activities for the year. Our guest lecturers included a scientist who spoke on the causation and cure of cancer. However, there are negatives. We won't forget the olfactory insults we put up with when a very smokey experiment produced the lingering odor of rotten eggs. Also memorable was the science olympics. Unfortunately, our egg cracked. Our trip to the Hayden Planetarium provided a view of earth from another perspective. We are planning to see Yong-Yong and friend at the Brox Zoo. All of us had a great time ice skating at the new Wollman rink. The club's Motion Dance was a study in the physics of movement. Plainly, we are a union of curious fun-seekers.

JOHN BOWNE CHAPTER
63-25 Main Street
Flushing, New York 11367

THE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR STUDENTS OF VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The FFA is a national youth organization founded in 1928. Its purpose is to provide leadership training, a belief in oneself and others, and a belief in our country and its future. This is best stated in the words of the FFA motto: "Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve."

This year, the John Bowne Chapter has participated in a number of activities. The chapter won numerous ribbons at the Queens County Farm Fair, placed third in the sub-state Chapter Meeting Contest, and participated in the State Convention. Members also enjoyed apple picking, visiting several colleges, and skiing. As usual, the chapter participated in Flower Day and Bunny Day, the themes of which were to help host exchange students from Israel.
